Paper Collection Sunday, June 11

Andover's next paper collection will take place a week from next Sunday, June 11, and it will be the only one held during the summer months. Townspeople are urged to get all accumulated papers, books and magazines out on that day for the final spring drive. The first fall collection will be held early in September.

Paper is still the number one essential on the salvage list. Demands for packaging material for government requirements are keeping the pulp mills working on a hand to mouth basis and the whole nation is on the alert for new sources of raw material.

Andover townspeople have made a magnificent record in piling up a total of over 130 tons of salvaged paper in four collections and it is all reprocessed and on the way to the fighting front.

Pomps to Open On Next Sunday

Damage has been done to the property at Pomp's Pond over the weekend, according to a report by the committee. The equipment was being made ready for an early opening on Sunday, when it will be open daily from 2:30 to 6:30 until about the twenty-third of June, when it will open officially for the season. The damage consisted of shingles torn off the roof of the bathhouse and the throwing of a dismantled raft into the pond.

Four life guard appointments have been made to date, and two more will be made when the applicants file and are approved. Mrs. Robert Deyermund will be the matron and supervisor again this year, and Miss Marjorie Foster will also be a member of the staff as a guard. Miss Ruth Gregory and William Dwyer will be the guards at Hussey's Pond. All have passed the Red Cross Senior Life saving tests.

Major Mersereau Missing in Pacific

Major Everett Mersereau of Lowell street, one of Andover's heroes of the American Division which did such a splendid job at Guadalcanal and Bougainville, has been reported missing on a flight from Bougainville back to Guadalcanal.

Major Mersereau had been in the service for 28 months and was about due for a rest and a promotion to lieutenant-colonel. He was Bill Deyermund's major. His wife, Ruth Sanford Mersereau, is now living in Lawrence.

Town Team Going After Fifth Straight

The Andover Town Team chalked up wins three and four over the holiday week-end, defeating Lynn 7 to 5 on Sunday and Phillips 7 to 0 on Memorial Day.

This Sunday the Townies will meet the strong U. S. Coast Artillery Team of New Hampshire, the visiting pitcher being from the Canadian-American league.

Lavoie allowed the Phillips team only two hits on the holiday.

The 1944 team is the same as last year's, except for Gaidis and Schiller infield, and Lavoie, DeDuca and Harriman at pitch and Hebsch as catcher. Lavoie and Harriman have been released from the Army and Schiller from the Navy. Max Bishop played first base Tuesday and Sunday while home on a furlough after nine months in the Atlantic and 16 months in the Pacific area with the Navy. He will play first on Sunday again. The Townies expect to lose Haltmeier and Foster to the Army and Navy respectively.

LEAGUE BOARD MEETING

The first board meeting of the League of Women Voters for the current season will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Reginald Holt, 74 Bartlet street.

All members of the board are urged to be present as the program and policy for next year will be discussed.

Seventy Abbot Alumnae Return For Reunions

Abbot alumnae demonstrated their constant interest in Abbot and in each other by returning seventy strong for Alumnae Day, a good number considering the difficulties of travel and problems in leaving families well cared for in their absence. A number of classes held five year reunions. Miss Annah Kimball was present for 1994. Eight members of 1889 held a most successful reunion, this class being distinguished by having two granddaughters in the graduating class: Nancy Emerson, granddaughter of Mrs. Lillian Ellis Emerson, and Elizabeth Gilbert Rich, granddaughter of Mrs. Annis Spencer Gilbert, and daughter of Mrs. Helen Gilbert Rich of the class of 1914. Mrs. Gilbert reported on the activities of the present and absent members.

The fifty year class was represented by three members, this class having had a "paper Reunion" in the alumnae Bulletin, members being too widely scattered to hold a formal reunion. The class of 1899 had but one member present, Mrs. Lillian Mooers Smith. The forty-year class held a large reunion with eleven present, Mrs. Helen Abbott Allen reporting at the meeting. The 35-year class, 1909, had

Church to Admit Absent Servicemen

In a service that establishes a precedent the Free Christian church will accept a group of men now in the country's armed forces as members in absentia. At the regular Sunday morning service a list of those who have requested admission will be read for acceptance.

The idea of proposing admission to church membership for boys and girls now serving their country was enthusiastically received by the church standing committee and more than forty letters of invitation were sent to non-church members on the service list. Those who have already accepted are located in North Africa, England, places in the Atlantic and the Caribbean and in Army camps in this country.

It is expected that an additional group will be received into the church at a later date for many letters sent out are doubtless just being received and a reply from the boys and girls in service is hardly possible by June 4. It is the hope of church officials that all of the non-member Service group will accept the church's invitation to join in absentia.

Memorial Exercises Held by Veterans

Andover's annual Memorial exercises for its soldier and sailor dead had more than the usual touch of solemnity in this year of 1944 when the possibility is very great that another Memorial day may find the rolls of hero dead considerably enlarged. This year for the first time the exercises were split over two days, the Spring Grove exercises coming on Sunday and the others on Tuesday.

The Tuesday programs follow: Memorial Hall Library, Star Spangled Banner, Punchard High School Girls' Band; roll of the dead and prayer; Chaplain Alden Cook; speaker, Superintendent of Schools, Edward I. Erickson; Nearer, My God, to Thee, Girls' Band.

Memorial Auditorium: National Anthem, Lawrence Legion fife and drum corps; speaker, Rev. Elton E. Smith; prayer, Rev. Mr. Smith; salute, State Guard firing squad; taps, John Keith of the Legion with echo by Gerard Vellmore of the Lawrence Post corps.

Memorial Tower: Star Spangled Banner, Girls' Band, Alden Cook; address, James Gould; salute by State Guard firing squad; taps, John Keith; and Nearer, My God, to Thee, Girls' Band.

These three programs were sponsored by the American Legion with Commander Bernard L. McDonald as chairman. The V. F. W. service at the South church was in charge of Commander William J. Snyder, who was chief marshal of the parade. The program opened with Nearer, My God, to Thee by the Andover Brass Band, V. F. W. service, prayer by Rev. John S. Moses of Christ church; salute, by State Guard firing squad and taps by John Keith, with echo by Gerard Vellmore.

Sunday Services

A memorial service consisting of a parade followed by services at Spring Grove cemetery was held last Sunday afternoon by the patriotic organizations in town. William Snyder, commander of Andover Post, 2128, V. F. W., was the chief marshal and the aides were: Harold L. Peters, American Legion; Ira Buxton, Sons of Veterans, and James Mitchell; British War Veterans. The first division was headed by Commander Bernard L. McDonald of the American Legion.

Color guards of the American Legion and the V. F. W., were massed for the ceremonies, including John M. Erving, Joseph A. McCarthy, George Wilcox, Joseph T. Remmes, George F. Symonds, William Deyermund, Thomas P. Dea and Thomas L. Raidy. Joseph Medolo of the Legion, was the sergeant-at-arms.

Commander McDonald conducted the services at the Legion lot. Prayer was said by Post Chaplain Alden Cook and Selectman Roy E. Hardy gave the address.

The following placed wreaths at the base of the monument for their respective organizations: James Mitchell for the British War Veterans; William Snyder for the V. F. W.; Joseph Medolo for the Legion; Paul M. Cheney, Jr., for the Sons of the American Legion; Mrs. Frank McCarthy for the Legion Auxiliary.

The Punchard Girls' Band furnished the music for the occasion and the salute was fired by the State Guard firing squad. Taps was sounded by John Keith, and the echo by David Robb.

The service at Grand Army lot was in charge of Commander Snyder of the V. F. W., with prayer and address by Rev. Frederick B. Noss.

The British Veterans held their service at the grave of Alexander McLaughlin. James Mitchell placed the wreath and Rev. Mr. Noss offered the prayer.

In addition to the American Legion and auxiliary, the V. F. W., and auxiliary, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs and the Andover Company, State Guard were also in the line of march.

AN ADDRESS YOU WILL WANT

Every Andover boy and girl in the service whose correct address is available receives a copy of the Townsman each week—and we're glad to add the name and address of a boy who isn't an Andover resident. He wrote to us this week from a camp somewhere in the U. S.: "I have recently seen a copy of 'The Andover Townsman's servicemen edition, and was wondering if I might subscribe to same. After the war I am planning to marry an Andover girl and build there, so am naturally interested in the news of the town. I am a patient in a hospital here with a fractured spinal column and will be here probably for the duration."

He's going right on our mailing list. If anybody else wants to put him on his or her mailing list, call us and we'll give you the name and address. After all, some fruit or a cake or something like that might help out a young man with a fractured spine, an adopted son of Andover.

Advertising Exhibit At Addison Gallery

An exhibition entitled "Analysis of Modern Advertising" will be on display at the Addison Gallery until June 19.

As the title indicates, this exhibition analyses new and important developments in contemporary advertising art. It shows how creative design is reshaping the character of modern advertising. It illustrates how the former style of crowding the pages tells the story of the merchandise in complicated and rather disconnected comparisons. It reveals how the modern advertiser seeks simplicity of expression and directness of idea. Definite patterns leave a clear imprint on the consumer's memory. The decorative qualities of lettering have come to the fore more and more and their shapes, now included as part of the picture, are subordinated and brought in harmony with the general outlay of the advertisement as a whole. Advertising is an art and is now on its way to becoming a "fine" art.

The Addison Gallery is open free daily from 9:15; Sundays from 2:30 to 5.

Mrs. Herbert Holt and Mrs. Harvey Turner of South Main street were among the group of women to be capped as Nurses Aides at the graduation exercises held in the Y.W.C.A. on Monday.

Let's Keep It That Way

There are a lot of Andover boys and girls who have in the past couple of years gone all over the globe. They'll come back to Andover some day to tell us what they have seen. Some will be able to tell of the beauty of India, or of Tunis and Bizerte, or of Sicily and Italy, England, North Ireland, Wales, Syria, Australia, China, France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria Hungary, Rumania, and of what is left of Germany and Japan.

We've been hearing from them, week after week, and you'd be surprised to find how often the thought arises in those letters: "We hope we can come back to Andover pretty soon; we've seen lots of places, but there's none that's anywhere near as nice as Andover."

It's a grand thing to say about a grand town. And it's a challenge to us who are left behind. There are Andover boys flying nightly over Germany, or silently crossing the the ocean, on the surface or below it, or keeping close to the ground while an artillery barrage whistles overhead. Somehow they do manage to find time to think of home. They're probably dreaming of how the town looked in apple blossom time, of the spick and span newness of Shawsheen village, of the delightful oldness of old Andover, of the superbly well-kept grounds of Phillips academy, of the elm trees that add so much to Andover's beauty. But they're thinking of something else, too—of the people in Andover, of how well they usually choose their leaders, of how pleasant and friendly and helpful they are.

It's our job to keep the town that way, and even to improve it. They've entrusted it to us; they've gone away with a picture of Andover, physically and spiritually. It's up to us, on their return, to return the town to them so that that picture will not be any less attractive. Now they're saying it's the best town in the world; when they come back, we want them still to be able to say it.

COMMUNICATIONS

Washington, D. C.,
May 27, 1944

Dear Editor:

In reply to your editorial of May 18, still as a voter of Andover, I wish in the first place to say that on my recent visit to Andover it couldn't have looked lovelier. Garbed in May sunshine, it seemed to smile amidst the apple blossoms.

Oftentimes I think how much Andover has of the true democratic spirit of America. Just going down town, one sees the old, middle-aged, and young giving the time of day. I think one of the ways to over-or stopping for a few minutes of bantering or to tell something of vital importance to a friend. come the reticence which you refer to in town affairs is to have a column for suggestions for the betterment of Andover. The Andover Village Improvement Society takes care of the physical problems; perhaps, by your columns, political, economical, or any other problem besides a town spirit could be fostered by the people of the town sending in these suggestions to your column either with their names or anonymously, which could be rewarded each year by some award of recognition, such as a certificate or cup to the one whose suggestion did most for the town. I think myself some expression of recognition would be better for the adults except in the case of a boy or girl who could well use the money for school or college. This, of course, would have to depend on a committee of town citizens to decide. It certainly would increase not only an interest in town affairs, but create a great deal of pride in trying to make Andover one of the finest as well as one of the most beautiful of towns.

Yours sincerely,

HELEN A. B. ROBERTSON
P. S. A contest could be conducted in the schools to save you the work with the labor shortage. This would create interest in the very young, and the work could go to their credit for theme work.

You may publish this if you care to. Constructive thinking should be done in every community.

Lumber Operators Subject of Exhibit

"Logging and Lumbering in California," a photographic portrait by Berenice Abbott, will be on exhibition at the Addison Gallery until July 10.

The present serious shortage of paper and the high priority on various other wood products has brought lumber to the headlines as one of the critical home front industries. Plywood was used in countless building operations before the war but now has become as difficult to obtain as the skilled labor which manufactures it. These documentary pictures of logging and lumbering in California typify the efficient mechanization which has converted the industry as a whole from a slow hand job by which pioneers satisfied their own local needs to a swift businesslike process providing inexpensive products in great abundance for the needs of a nation.

With her camera, Berenice Abbott has penetrated the thick pine forest of California and noted the lumberjacks and their machines working deep within. The lumber industry has developed its own machines, and its workers have their specialized skills. Method and equipment are adapted to local conditions, the climate and utilization of timber. In the Sierra Mountains, where these photographs have been taken, the summers are dry, while the winter brings deep snow and rain. Thus, logging is done during the dry season unless exceptional demand, such as war production, necessitates winter logging. The timber then is hauled to the mills which assemble enough wood to carry production through the winter. Mills now have grown into large plants, supplying many industries all over the country and playing their part in war production.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Huggins and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Silva of Maple avenue visited in Cornish, N. H., recently.

CHECK YOUR ADDRESSES

All persons who send mail to the larger cities in the United States are asked to send their lists of addresses to the local post office in order to have the postal delivery numbers affixed and returned for future use. The zoning system has been adopted to facilitate delivery in the larger cities, and can only be effective if mailers cooperate by affixing the zone number to the address.

SOUTH CHURCH FAMILY PICNIC

Definite plans for the South Church Family Picnic were worked out Monday night by a group of several men who met at the home of Harold Wood, Church School Superintendent. The picnic is being held Saturday afternoon, June 10, at Camp Manning on Pumps Pond if weather is good, or in the Church Vestry in event of rain.

Separate committees were formed to take care of competitive games and stunts, the awarding of prizes and the serving of tonic and coffee. Facilities for the roasting of frank-forts and hamburgers are being provided for any who bring these as part of their basket lunch.

The picnic is being sponsored by the Sunday School, but all families of the Church and all young people connected with any of the Church organizations are invited to attend. Returns of those coming should be in by Sunday so that an adequate supply of refreshments and prizes will be available.

There will be soft ball, darts, volley ball and horse shoe pitching for those who want to take part.

by Miss Edith Kendall, was read and accepted. Miss Marion McPherson, executive secretary of the Alumnae Association, reported on her work and stated the amount received to date from alumnae for the Abbot Second Century Alumnae Fund was $1606.60. Mrs. Constance P. Chipman, social secretary, read the list of thirty alumnae who have died during the year, and then gave a brief report of the work for the Alumnae Bulletin, and the activities of the Abbot Clubs.

The alumnae enjoyed the annual ceremony of induction of the senior class, when Miss Hearsey presented them to Mrs. Kennedy as the youngest members of the Alumnae Association. They led the alumnae in singing "Abbot Beautiful," before they marched out singing their class song.

Miss Hearsey gave an informal talk on some aspects of the school life which were of great interest to all, and made the alumnae aware of the problems and pleasures of administration.

The Alumna Trustee, Mrs. Polly Bullard Holden, spoke of activities of the school which had not been mentioned, and of her pleasure in serving on the Board of Trustees.

Class reports then followed. Mrs. Mildred Frost Eaton, chairman of the Nominating Committee, announced the slate of officers to serve from 1944 to 1946, and these were declared elected when the clerk had cast one vote: President, Mrs. Roberta Kendall Kennedy; vice-presidents, Mrs. Gwendolyn

Bloomfield Tillson, Mrs. Virginia Gay d'Elseaux, Mrs. Edith Johnson Donald; clerk, Mrs. Susan Hildreth Goodwin; treasurer, Mrs. Laura Cheever Downs.

Mrs. Kennedy then expressed appreciation of the work of the flower and tea committee, Mrs. Frances McTernan Coan, Mrs. Barbara Healey Holland, Mrs. Barbara Lord Mathias, and Mrs. Gisela Bolten Hogan.

The meeting was declared adjourned, and the alumnae met for tea in the Alumnae Headquarters.

Memorial Service for Eleven Local Boys

On Sunday evening in the Memorial Auditorium there was held a most impressive memorial service under the auspices of the Andover Service Men's Fund Association, honoring the eleven boys from Andover who have lost their lives in this war.

The names, illuminated individually on a plaque with the rest of the stage in darkness, were: David R. Brown, Edward P. Guild, Robert P. Thompson, Arthur J. Gauthier, Emile L. Bourassa, Edward P. Poynter, Norman A. Drouin, Earl Shaw, Jr., George P. Knightly, Leslie J. Holdsworth, Jr., and Edmund B. Hill, Jr.

Color guards of the American Legion and the V. F. W. stood at attention with the national colors while the names were read. They were Thomas Carter, William Deyermund, Joseph Medolo and George F. Symonds.

Selectman J. Everett Collins sang the Lord's Prayer, and Taps was sounded by Betty Jane Gordon, with the echo by Marjorie Kearn, both of the Punched Girls' Band.

Rev. Markham W. Stackpole, school minister at Milton academy, formerly of Phillips, was the guest speaker. He served with many Andover boys in the last war as chaplain of the 102nd field artillery unit, and in his talk asked the people at home not to neglect the 1350 Andover boys serving in theatres of war all over the globe, but to write often, encouraging our men with cheerful letters, and doing the job on the home front efficiently and without complaint. He emphasized the importance of special attention for the disabled and wounded, and encouraged listeners to prepare for the dawn of peace and future Memorial Days.

The service opened with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the audience, which, incidentally, was lamentably small in complacent Andover. A salute to the flag of our country followed. During the evening there was interspersed throughout the program singing of some of the fine old hymns such as "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," "O God, Beneath Thy Guiding Hand," "America the Beautiful" and others, under the direction of J. Everett Collins. Two junior high school boys gave two stirring recitations, Richard Lindsay, "In Flanders Field," and John Kimball, "America's Answer to Flanders Field."

Group singing, under the direction of Selectman Collins, was enjoyed, and the Girls' Glee club of Punched, with supervisor of music Miriam Sweeney at the piano, sang three selections. The program closed with the singing of America and benediction by Rev. Mr. Noss. Pianist for the evening was Ivar Sjostrom, organist at the Free church.

The Servicemen's Fund Association is to be commended on its endeavors in presenting one of the finest Memorial services ever held in Andover. To the committee, and especially to John M. Erving, chairman, should go much of the credit for a stirring service.

Students' Work In P. A. Exhibit

At the Addison Gallery three of the main exhibition rooms on the first floor have been devoted entirely to the Annual Phillips Academy student exhibition. Paintings which illustrate some of the trends in modern art will be found hanging side by side with more conservative pictures. Contrary to the popular impression, student art is created not so much for the sake of developing painters or illustrators as for the knowledge of art which the act of making pictures gives. Thus the visitor to the exhibition has an opportunity not only to enjoy these pictures for themselves but also to discern in them an answer to some of the questions which frequently puzzle him as to what modern art really is.

The exhibition will continue until July 10.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE THIS DECISION?

Physicians are caring for practices that have doubled and tripled since the war began, and they are doing wonderful work in the emergency. In arranging his daily calls, your doctor frequently must decide which ones are urgent and which patients can safely wait until later in the day. Help him to make this difficult decision by giving him the facts in your case as you know them. Tell him the symptoms as accurately as you can. His professional integrity assures you that he will make his decision solely on what they mean to him as a medical man.
